Council Told Approval Near For Sewage Lagoon Project

Robert R. Jennings, of the Virginia State Water Control Board, has advised the Appomattox Town Council that approval by the Water Control Board of the Town's plans to build a sewage lagoon is nearly complete. This was revealed at the Monday night session of Mayor S. H. Lawson and Council in his absence by presiding vice-mayor Mrs. Calvin Robinson.

Each of the councilmen has a 54 page Engineering Report plus maps prepared by Hankins and Anderson, consulting engineers of Richmond, which outlines recommendations for needed repairs and improvements to both the water supply system and the sewerage system.

Cecil A. Painter, resident engineer for the State Highway Department, suggested to Town Council that they submit a written request to the Highway Department for additional allocations in order to complete the improvements to Rt. 460 from Church Street to the eastern corporate limits, amounting to 0.97 of one mile. Council voted unanimously to do this.

He said that $46,747.76 is presently available for the construction of the highway out of an estimated cost of $127,000. The Right of Way Division has been authorized to proceed with a right-of-way appraisal he said with a "target date" for beginning construction tentatively set for sometime after Christmas, 1965.

The Town of Appomattox will be responsible for one-half the cost of new sidewalk and a percentage distribution cost on the storm sewer which may amount to something like $3,150, he said.

The $69,000 deficit in funds for the total project may possibly be allocated in two parts, Palmer said, with one allocation in 1964 and the balance in 1965's budget.

Vice-Mayor Mrs. Calvin Robinson who presided for absent Mayor S. H. Lawson reported to Council that a proposed ordinance dealing with subdivisions would be brought to Council's attention in a special meeting Friday evening, March 20 when C. F. Dynes, of the State Rural Planning Commission will be in Appomattox for a special council meeting.

The song of the birds for mirth;
"One time of the sun for garden,
One is nearer God is a garden,
Than anywhere else on earth."

Overheard on a TV show: a lady decided to take up golf. She took lessons for eight weeks and then sailed forth to play. On the first hole she spent half an hour in a sand trap and ended up with a 56 score —on the first hole!

* * *

Three memorable Sundays . . . Passion Sunday, Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday. Let us not forget the religious meaning of these events, although a spring festival of new life was observed long before the Christian era. After a dreary winter, people just naturally rejoiced at the coming of a new growing season and the ladies took the lead in coming out in new finery. Only a few years ago, we were in front of Saks Fifth Avenue, watching the Easter Parade, and hoping to get a glimpse of Faye Emerson in the reviewing stand. We did . . . but the star attraction on the sidewalk was a lady whose Easter Hat featured a bird cage with a live canary! So help me. .

* * *

And now, I want to call attention to my oft-repeated slogan. . . . "Appomattox Is A Growing Town." And suburban Appomattox, too. Many new homes are under construction, and others are on the planning board. They are fine modern homes, mostly ranch type, of brick. I would suggest that when a new housing development is started and its sponsors give it a local name that that name be accepted and used as its destination. And when the call goes out for the annual Spring Clean-Up, be a leader. The acid test for me will come when Brightleaf levels a finger at me and says: "You keep talking about a Clean-Up . . . why don't you clean off that huge desk in your den!" Oh well, that's a chore for a rainy day. How is it for you — got any Spring Clean-Up in mind?

May we suggest the following new titles.

My Heart Turns Back by Fay Wood

124 pages of childhood memories of Rural Virginia in the Nineties written by Fay Moore-man, who was born in Campbell County in 1887. She was a teacher but will be best remembered by her friends as the clerk of the school board of Campbell County for 27 years. To quote Miss Moorman: "The days of open fires, buggy rides, red-flannel underwear, and ribbed stockings have been shoved into the background of our present-day living and are no longer needed or desired, yet their influence are abiding."

Reading this happy, thoughtful book is a reminder that a tranquil note is still possible—and welcome— in our fastpaced, hectic world.

The Spy Who Came In From The Cold — by John Le Carre

America's new Number ONE best seller will smost certain to become a classic — "It will haunt you and hurt you for a long time . . . only rarely does a book of this quality appear— A timely book about the East German contact at the Wall in Berlin.

J. F. K. — The Man And The Myth by Victor Lasky

653 pages of critical analysis of the late President Kennedy— To quote from the Book Review of September 8th, 1963: "One does not have to be for or against books like this massive, prejudiced tome" — If Victor Lasky had written a volume of personal views of the President and his career, that would have been his priviledge. If he had written a strongly documented book letting the record speak for itself, that would have been a valuable service". What he has chosen to do is to write his personal opinions and "buttresses" then with just enough carefully selected documentation to lend an air of factual accuracy to his bias"——

The Torch Is Passed — By Associated Press

A full and complete pictorial review of the four days in November as was presented by the Associated Press. This book is one of historical fact — it cost only $2.00 and one which is well worth personal ownership.

Senate Candidate Visits Appomattox

J. B. Brayman, of Lynchburg, Independent candidate for U. S. Senate, was in Appomattox March 5. He is a native of Pittsylvania county and has made his home in Lynchburg for the past 40 years.

His interest in political office began in 1954 when he ran for Congress from the Sixth District five successive times.

Mr. Brayman, an Independent, believes in reduction of foreign aid and taxes; $1,000 exemption on federal income tax; selection of presidential electors by congressional district; election of members of the U. S. Supreme Court for 15 year terms; medical care for the aged, and jobs for all the people.

Pantheretts Win District Crown

Victory came to Carver-Price Pantheretts Saturday night, March 7 in the District V, Group II tournament here in Appomattox.

The Pantheret's had fought with great vigor and energy throughout the entire season which gave them a 16-3 record and the "visitation championship".

The final game between Carver's Pantheretts and Lunenburg was a nip-and-tuck in the last quarter, but Carol Andrews, Wanda Goode and Lois Johnson soon put the "freeze" on the ball to give Carver a 26-25 win. Aycoe could tell this team played as well as any team in the country.

Wanda Goode, (captain) and Carol Andrews (co-captain) were chosen as members of the State Tournament Team.

The all star squad, only co-captain Carol Andrews will be lost by graduation.

According to the girls they can hardly wait until next season.

Mrs. Lewis' husband has helped her in coaching her teams all year.

Five Burned In Concord Fire

Four members of a rural New-gent family and a neighbor were burned seriously Saturday about 5 p.m. when their frame dwelling on Rt. 640 near Concord burst into flames as a gasoline-kerosene mixture was being poured into a woodstove.

Seriously burned were Horace Tweedy, 45, his two children, Joyce Tweedy, 14 and Ralph Melvin Tweedy, 6; and Jack Curchell, a visitor at the Tweedy home.

They were moved to Medical College of Virginia after first being taken to Lynchburg General Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Tweedy received only superficial burns about the face and hands. She was released after treatment at Lynchburg General.

Lynchburg Metropolitan Red Cross Chapter purchased food, blankets, clothing and shoes for the family.

Alfalfa Weevil To Appear Soon Farmers Offered Two Control

Alfalfa growers will need to carefully watch their fields next alfalfa, Jim Smith, County agent cautioned today. Within the next few weeks the alfalfa weevil will begin making his appearance.

Methoxychlor is no longer recommended to control. Two materials are suggested: (1) Malathion, at the rate of 1½ to 2 pints per acre. (2) Diazinon. The latter has two options. Either apply one pint Diazinon 25% plus 2 to 3 pints of Diazinon emulsion per acre or spray twice within 7 to 10 days with 1 to 1½ pints of the emulsion. In general, the use of option 2 will result in somewhat better control than option No. 1.

Malathion is effective against aphids while Diazinon is not. Diazinon is effective against the spittlebug while Malathion is not.

Growers will be governed by secondary infestation as to which insecticide to use. Malathion is less effective than Diazinon at low temperature, therefore, Malathion should be applied only on days when the temperature is expected to go above 60 degrees F.

Fire Damages Home At Vera

Extensive smoke and water damage resulted from a fire about 10:30 Monday morning at the home of the Emmett Harris' family, Vera, Va.

A passerby, Emmett Jamerson, noticed smoke and reported the fire. No one was at the home at the time. By then plus Jamerson fought the blaze in the bedroom of the four-room frame house until volunteers arrived from Appomattox with the county truck.

Robert Coleman, a farmer who helped to smother the blaze said that the fire appeared to have started near the bed in the room most burned by the fire. He and others carried water from the house next door to the blazing bed, and firemen later dragged out the mattress and springs.

Emmett Harris and his wife each work part-time. They have three children at the home: E. G., 12; E. T., eight; and June, about three years old.

Coleman said that only the prompt action of Jamerson who reported the fire plus the local volunteers, David Carter, William Carter, Teddy Garrett, Evans Ferguson, Harold Kanipe and Coleman, kept the fire from spreading to the rest of the house.

Parcel Post Hike April 1

Postmaster H. W. Conner reminds residents of Appomattox County that an effective date of April 1 has been set for new domestic parcel post rate increases.

The parcel post increase — approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 18.1 per cent— is expected to yield about $75.4 million annually.

Catalog rates will be increased approximately 13 per cent and will produce added revenue of about $2.4 million if volume is maintained.

The higher rates do not affect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Postmaster Conner said he has been advised by Postermaster General John A. Gronouski that the decision of the ICC will assist the Post Office Department in carrying out its objective of reducing the drain on the Federal treasury by $400 million.

The last parcel post increase was on February 1, 1960, the postmaster pointed out.

To illustrate the effect of the new rates here, Mr. Conner noted that a six-pound parcel — which is the average weight— for local area delivery will cost 37c instead of 29c.
